

Seamlessly transition to sustainable waterborne alkyd resins: a collaborative approach by Perstorp.

Perstorp has been a trusted partner in the alkyd resin market for decades, known for supplying essential raw materials like Penta and Bis-MPA™. As sustainability becomes increasingly important for customers and industries, the need to shift from solvent-borne to waterborne resins is more urgent than ever.

Perstorp invites alkyd resin producers to a collaboration to make this transition happen. With our expert guidance, innovative formulation support, and new range of advanced emulsifiers, we support customers to overcome technical hurdles and expand possibilities in waterborne technology. Join us to learn how this partnership can transform your resins and business.
