

Presentation title: Wanhua latest development for waterborne wood outdoor coating

Presenter: Daniel Hao

Brief introduction:

According to the application characteristics and performance requirement of outdoor wood, Wanhua has developed and launched a new generation of soap-free polyacrylic product Lacper®4572, which has small particle size, clear appearance, and can show the natural texture of wood. The design of core-shell structure and the application of self-crosslinking technology provide this product with excellent anti-blocking, flexibility, water resistance and outdoor durability, meeting the application requirements of outdoor woodwork.